Gorge Project – Interview with Tom Harris Now Available

GEO Exploration Limited (AIM: GEO) is pleased to announce that Tom Harris, the Company's Australian Exploration Manager, has recorded an interview discussing the recently completed interpretation of the airborne geophysical surveys at the Gorge Project.

The interview can be viewed on YouTube at the following link:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cfQtJxUVYS4>

The interview is also available through the Company's social media platforms.

The interview covers:

- What has changed most significantly in GEO's understanding of Gorge.
- The importance of the Wyloo Dome geological setting.
- Similarities with major Australian gold deposits, including Telfer and Fosterville.
- How the combined expertise of Tom Harris, Callum Baxter and Dr Finbarr Murphy shaped the geological model.
- What the 12 target areas - including 9 newly generated targets - reveal about Gorge's broader potential.
- Why Gorge Mine, 401 and MAG001 have emerged as priority targets.
